

A website your board can approve.

Custom websites for Canadian nonprofits and charities, built around donations, volunteers and the people you serve.

Website projects from

$6,000 CAD

A fixed written quote confirms your scope before you commit. Applicable taxes and third-party fees are extra.

What is included

- Up to 12 pages, using up to 6 different page designs, with custom design and development.
- Page planning, headlines and editing for clarity. You supply the main text and photos.
- A donation or enquiry path, mobile-friendly layouts, search setup and redirects from your old pages.
- A content management system (CMS) so staff can update text, images, programs and news. Training is recorded.

Timing and payment

- We plan your pages with you first. The six to eight weeks start when we have your main text and photos.
- Payment is 50% to start and 50% before launch, with dates agreed in writing.
- Larger sites and additional functionality are quoted separately.

Accessibility and languages

- WCAG 2.2 AA is the target, with accessibility checks before launch.
- The site is structured for English and French. French content starts at $1,500 when you supply the text; writing or review is quoted separately.
- Donation-platform integration is scoped with you. Google decides Ad Grant eligibility and approval.

Ownership and ongoing costs

- Your organization owns the finished site and controls its domain, hosting and accounts.
- Includes launch training, 14 days of post-launch fixes and a check-in call.
- Optional care: $400 a month. Three months to start, then month to month with 14 days' notice. Domain, hosting and third-party fees remain separate.

Start with a 15-minute call.
